

Polyfast Polímeros named exclusive authorized distributor of acrylic-based products ACRYLITE® and ACRYMID® in Brazil

Parsippany, NJ, USA – Effective immediately, Polyfast Polímeros will be the exclusive authorized distributor of Roehm's acrylic-based molding compound products in Brazil. Roehm's ACRYLITE® and ACRYMID® brands of polymethyl methacrylate (PMMA) products are established in many applications in the lighting and automotive industries as well as in the electronics and household appliances sectors.

Polyfast Polímeros, headquartered in São Paulo, has a widespread presence and extensive experience in the polymers industry and a reputation for exceeding customer expectations. The extensive product portfolio of Roehm's molding compounds for all injection-molding and extrusion applications is the ideal supplement to Polyfast's robust portfolio. This partnership will combine the reliable manufacturing operations, quality products, and innovative solutions of Roehm with the exceptional service provided by Polyfast's extended supply chain network, local sales and marketing professionals, and technical support.

Utilized in many different fields of application, from high-gloss pillar covers on cars to light-guiding materials in luminaires, Roehm's ACRYLITE® and ACRYMID® molding compounds are the ideal solution for applications requiring exceptional brilliance and transparency, unparalleled weather resistance, and excellent surface characteristics.
